You find yourself sitting in a dimly lit room, surrounded by the humdrum of ordinary life, gazing out at a world so full of color but feeling achingly bland. Just as you lean back into the plush comfort of your chair, a radiant glow begins to envelop you. The walls around you seem to shimmer, and the air buzzes with an electric sense of excitement. "What is happening?" you mutter, bewildered, as the reality around your reflection shifts before your eyes.

Suddenly, the room's familiar corners warp and melt away, leaving you suspended amidst a dazzling cityscape that epitomizes Heaven itself as depicted in the whimsical world of Hazbin Hotel. The vibrant colors of the sky blend into hues of pastel blue and gold, while ethereal forms flit aboutno longer the dull brown of your human self but something ethereal, something infinitely more beautiful. "What"No! I don have always been here... havenve always been part of Heaven!" Joy tinged with an exhilarating relief floods your heart, and you lean into this warmth, letting it wrap around you like a loving embrace.

The remaining threads of your past untangle effortlessly from your mind, replaced with visions of dancing amongst the stars and the thrill of guiding lost souls towards redemption. This newfound happiness overrides the nostalgia that attempted to anchor you to a non-existent past. "Oh, I was never human!" you exclaim, full of glee as you flap your magnificent wings and soar up into the ornate sky that sparkles with endless possibilities. "I am a seraphim!

As you glance at the other angels surrounding youyou feel at home, buzzing with joy and effervescent energy. "See? It was never really meant for me to belong anywhere else!" you rejoice, celebrating the illusion of a human past that has faded without leaving a shred of doubt.

In this paradise of enlightenment amidst angels of all kinds, you beam with the vibrant joy of knowing your truest self. "I am finally awake!" And with that, you take off, knowing that you have always belonged here among the clouds of Heaven, eternally happy, eternally free.